Functional Anatomy is designed to give the practitioner a basic knowledge of the muscles, bones and movements of the body from a bodyworker's perspective. Throughout the class, we will be studying the structure of the body from a functional perspective, learning not just where the muscles are, but how they produce or restrict movement, how they impact posture and movement when they're either too tight or too weak, and how one would stretch or strengthen them. In addition to watching anatomy DVDs and reading, class time is dedicated to exploring the body experientially through palpation, and movement exercises.
